

Are you a fan of Big Bang Theory?

A few years ago the Big Bang Theory TV series had a scene where the boys built a few IoT projects. This was even before the term IoT became popular. It was in an episode, entitled “The Cooper-Hofstadter Polarization,” where they successfully turned on a lamp via the Internet. This leads to some funny incidents.

In fact at that time it was a kind of science fiction, however, by the end of this training, you will be able to build these same projects on your own. Awesome right?

Watch the video in this link:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=mqp8_ROAIJY